Tellico Village Facebook Page Welcomes 3,000th "Like"

Sometime on Tuesday evening, March 4th, the Tellico Village Facebook page welcomed its 3000th "like". The 3000 likes are more than Rarity Bay's 610 likes, more than Fairfield Glade's 469 likes and 33% more than Del Webb's 1,996 likes.

This milestone also marks a remarkable transition for the community's Facebook page. Since January 2013, likes have increased more than seven fold and represents a conversion from the page being primarily an internal communication tool for Villagers to a vehicle that increases awareness for the Tellico Village brand providing a window on the activities and lifestyle of the community to potential residents. More than two-thirds of the page's likes now come from outside the state of Tennessee.

Why not join the fun and like the Tellico Village Facebook page? Better yet, have your organization like the community's Facebook page and gain exposure for your group with prospective residents around the country. It's never too soon to start recruiting new members!

Volunteers, Charitable Events, Fundraisers

Good Shepherd Center Fund Raiser March 8

March 8 is the date for the annual Good Shepherd Center of Monroe County fund raiser. This year, Faye Wooden will be the featured entertainment. Tickets for the event are $40 each. For those who cannot attend but wish to support the Center, FEED A FAMILY tickets are available, also $40.

Tickets may be purchased at the Good Shepherd Center, the Monroe County Chamber of Commerce, the Kahite Clubhouse, any Center Board Member and many of the churches in Monroe County.

A native Appalachian of Cherokee descent, Faye transports listeners of all ages into worlds and times shaped by the power of imagination. "Storytelling is an ancient art" she said, "that awakens our senses and carries us into new worlds. When I tell a story, I want listeners to be totally involved, to enjoy the trip."

An active member of the Tennessee Storytelling Association, the Southern Order of Storytellers, and the National Storytelling Network, Faye has appeared in Jonesborough, Tennessee, and at NSN's National Story Night at the International Storytelling Center. She is a performing member of the Jonesborough Storytellers Guild.

The event will be held in the Sequoyah High School cafeteria on Route 411 between Vonore and Madisonville and will offer a buffet dinner, as well as silent and live auctions. The doors will open at 5:30 p.m. for the silent auction with the dinner to follow at 6:30 p.m. The entertainment will follow.

Many people do not realize that the Center does not receive any federal or state funding and that this is the one fund raiser held by the Good Shepherd Center each year. It is a major source of income for the operation of the Center. The services rendered by the center are offered to any resident of Monroe County who needs help and is experiencing sudden or unexpected hardships caused by unemployment and/or insufficient funds.

The Center served over 25,000 people last year with clothing and basic food needs. It would be very difficult to provide this service without the funds provided by this fund raiser.

Save the Date: Child Advocacy Center Dinner/Auction May 7

The Child Advocacy Center will hold a fundraising dinner and auction May 7 in Rothschild's Convention Center. The theme is "Hoops for Hope" with guest speaker Holly Warlick. For more information, contact Kids First, 865-986-1505.

Did You Know: Tennessee-One-Call System

Did you know that your Public Works department is a member of Tennessee-one-call system. That's the program also known as Call Before You Dig. What does that mean to you, the homeowner?

Anytime you have work done on your property, just call 1-800-351-1111, or call 811, and provide them with the information they ask for. Make sure that you tell them exactly where on your property you plan the work to take place, that way Public Works can mark our utilities for you. Other members of Tennessee-one-call, such as AT&T, or Charter will automatically be notified to do the same.

There is a three-day time frame that Public Works has to locate the utility lines unless it is an emergency, then it is a three-hour timeframe.

Color-coded paint will be used to mark the underground utilities: blue for water, green for sewer, red for electric, etc.

Water Loss Detection: What did we find out?

By Jeff Gagley, Director of Public Works

If you remember, back in January at the POA Board meeting, the Public Works Department requested funds for a company called MatchPoint to do leak detection on 33 miles of water infrastructure in an effort to reduce the water loss in the system.

Prior to that, the Public Works team indentified the first area of testing by isolating the system into five zones and conducting several late-night tests on the system throughout 2013. They found that zone two (in the Tanasi and Chota Hills areas) was showing a high volume of water going through the system in the middle of the night (note that the system tests where mostly done during non-irrigation months).

With our first zone selected with the help of our engineering firm, Jacobs, the project started on Jan. 21 and was completed on Jan. 27. Nine leaks were identified, of which eight of those have been repaired to date. These leaks were not able to be located by Public Works, because none of the water from these leaks was coming to the surface. With MatchPoint's advanced technology, in the form of the FCS Ground Microphone, they were able to pinpoint the area for our Public Works team to make the repairs.

The one leak that was not repaired is scheduled for later this spring, because this will require an isolated shut down of the system.

The calculated water loss from those eight leaks was 36 gallons per minute or 51,840 gallons per day. That projects out to 18.9 million gallons per year or approximately $29,000 per year.

You can quickly see that the $9,817 the POA Board spent was a wise investment. Now as we evaluate the actual savings we realize through water loss reduction over the next couple of months, this program may be back at the Board table yet again in 2014.

Some Other Stuff You Need to Know...

POA Survey Results Now Online

The POA conducted a property owner survey last fall. The results are in, and the committees are working on deeper analysis of the comments provided by the more than 600 respondents. The Communications and Marketing Advisory Committee and the Long Range Planning Advisory Committee are both working to categorize the comments with the objective being to communicate highlights from the feedback received.

The data collected during the survey is available for viewing on the POA website at <http://www.tellicovillagepoa.org/images/tellico/pdfs/admin/2013-survey.pdf>. Watch the Tell-E-Gram for articles and more information gleaned from the property owner survey.

Planning for Lifestyle Changes Roadmap now available

The Planning for Lifestyle Changes Roadmap – formerly called Plan B – prepared by an action team of STAYinTV (Seniors Taking Action Year-round in Tellico Village) is now available for free download from their website at <http://stayintv.org/>. This document, organized in important categories of Financial, Legal, Health, Personal, Critical Information, Emergency Information, and Resources provides templates, lists and examples of how families and individuals of any age can create, collect, organize, file their important information and enable access to it to a trusted person who may be asked to act on their behalf.

This roadmap is easily amenable for individual use and offers many options for implementing the need for planning. The Word file can be downloaded from the STAYinTV website, and individual pages can be completed, with insertion of related documentation. An electronic file is easy to transmit to family or an executor to keep for future reference. Some may choose to create one or two binders of documents that are logically organized and easily accessed. Others may choose to use the included Master Document Locator, a directory that lists all types of important and recommended types of documents with a notation where that information may be found in the event of need.
