The Communications and Marketing Advisory Committee and the Long Range Planning Advisory Committee are both working to categorize the comments with the objective being to communicate highlights from the feedback received.

The data collected during the survey is available for viewing on the POA website at <http://www.tellicovillagepoa.org/images/tellico/pdfs/admin/2013-survey.pdf>. Watch the Tell-E-Gram for articles and more information gleaned from the property owner survey.

Home Delivery Offered by The Public Library at Tellico Village

Do you miss reading your favorite author because you are either permanently or temporarily stuck at home with a noncommunicable health problem? The Public Library at Tellico Village will be happy to deliver you books. This is a FREE program for Loudon County supported in part by the Jane L. Pettway Foundation. After a brief interview to determine what type of books you like, you will have a volunteer bring library books every three weeks and return the finished books to the library for you. If you are visually impaired, we can help you get set up for books-on-CD. The library can make free short-term loans of equipment for listening to CDs until you can get something of your own. Planning for Lifestyle Changes Roadmap now available

The Planning for Lifestyle Changes Roadmap – formerly called Plan B – prepared by an action team of STAYinTV (Seniors Taking Action Year-round in Tellico Village) is now available for free download from their website at <http://stayintv.org/>. This document, organized in important categories of Financial, Legal, Health, Personal, Critical Information, Emergency Information, and Resources provides templates, lists and examples of how families and individuals of any age can create, collect, organize, file their important information and enable access to it to a trusted person who may be asked to act on their behalf.

This roadmap is easily amenable for individual use and offers many options for implementing the need for planning. The Word file can be downloaded from the STAYinTV website, and individual pages can be completed, with insertion of related documentation. An electronic file is easy to transmit to family or an executor to keep for future reference. Some may choose to create one or two binders of documents that are logically organized and easily accessed. Others may choose to use the included Master Document Locator, a directory that lists all types of important and recommended types of documents with a notation where that information may be found in the event of need.
