Village Communications Team Lands a Big One

The public relations team of John Cherry and Joe Bogardus have been working hard with the Tombras Group and Forbes magazine over the last six months on a story about newer Villagers and how they make their decision to move to our beautiful community. All that hard work and time has come to fruition. Yesterday, Forbes.com posted this story by Ashlea Ebeling: Fleeing Illinois For Tennessee In Retirement. (When you reach the Forbes.com website, click on CONTINUE TO SITE in the upper right-hand corner.) Forbes.com has 9,956,125 unique visitors per month compared to the magazine circulation of 931,558.

Many thanks go to our PR team at the Tombras Group, Villagers Joe Bogardus and Fred Toettcher, and especially John and Janet Reed.

Madisonville Wastewater Update

Keeping the Community Updated: The folks from WATeR have been working hard keeping an eye on the beauty and cleanliness of Tellico Lake. They also have been instrumental in organizing public input and comment on the City of Madisonville's plans to upgrade their wastewater treatment plant. The document at this link is the latest information and ruling from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation on the Madisonville WWTP. Many thanks to Villager Bill Waldrop and his team for their leadership and expertise on this issue.

Things to Look Forward to this Summer

By Jim Brown, Golf Advisory Committee

The golf committee and golf staff hope you are excited about the opening of the Toqua Pavilion. It will be nice to have our own snack bar and restrooms at the turn and a place outside with a roof and fans to socialize and relax after we play. Look for the grand opening soon.

We had enough money appropriated this year to fix about a third of our Toqua bunkers. With the elimination of high banks and liners and the addition of correct drainage, flat bottoms, and great sand (Sp55), it should be a dramatic improvement. Imagine no liners and level lies!

Our courses are recovering well from winterkill and winter injury. The sod replacement around the green surrounds has come in nicely. Toqua range and selected tees have been re-sodded and the top level of range should be open shortly. Our fairways continue to improve.

Several holes at Toqua that were damaged by a faulty spray rig will be sprigged after the Member/Guest. We have also sprigged a new putting green with Champions Bermuda in front of Toqua Clubhouse. When July and August heat stress out our bent grass putting greens, Champions Bermuda will thrive and take pressure off our regular putting green.

The Tellico Junior Golf Camp this year is July 7-11. The driving range at Toqua will be closed for them in the morning and re-open at approximately 3 p.m. after pickup.

Limited paving has been done at Kahite where there were safety issues. An extensive repaving is scheduled for 2017 with $300,000 budgeted. The bids have been slow coming in for the replacement bridge on hole #3 at Kahite. Construction will probably begin this fall.

I'm sure everyone has noticed the yellow Pace of Play signs in our golf carts and have had a chance to use the three pace of play strategies to keep up with the group ahead.

Play ready golf - As Paula Creamer says in a recent Golf Digest article, "I'm always ready when it's my turn to play. That means I'm thinking about my next shot while you're hitting yours."

If your playing partner is not ready, go ahead and hit. Hopefully they will catch on.

Hit and Sit - After hitting, take club and sit in cart. When cart stops for next shot, put clubs away. Otherwise you have just wasted time. Example: If each member of foursome fiddle-faddles around at the back of the cart after hitting, even for just five seconds, at twice a hole for 18 holes, that five seconds adds up to 12 minutes for your round!

Watch everyone's ball - Some of us don't see as well as we once did. It saves time looking if we know where to look. Hit a provisional if not sure if ball is lost or out of bounds. It's a long drive back to hit another ball when the next group is on the tee.

Two other strategies are worth mentioning:

- When cart path only, estimate how far away you are and take three or four clubs so you don't have to return to golf cart for another club. If you have a rangefinder, share that information with your playing partners.
- Another strategy involves parking the cart between you and your cart partner's ball when they are 20-30 yards apart and each walk to ball instead of sitting and watching your partner hit and then ride to your ball. In parking between balls, the first player to hit could return to cart and pickup other player after they hit, thus saving time.

Consideration

One of the ways we show our consideration for others or the golf course is to keep up with the group ahead. On a busy day we have 200 golfers. Can you imagine driving a two-lane road with a solid yellow line and the car ahead not keeping up? It slows everyone behind the slowpoke both on the highway and golf course.

Two other ways to show consideration is to rake bunkers and fix ball marks. Ask your fellow playing partners to rake if you see them forget. It's very frustrating to have to hit out of footprints. Ball marks will heal more rapidly if fixed right away. In a busy month, if those 200 golfers leave nine marks a day, it adds up to 54,000 marks per course or over 160,000 for all three courses. HELP!

It has come to the attention of the golf committee that some of our annual range members are giving tokens to friends. That is cheating the POA and should stop. Additionally, our green superintendents have reported an occasional cart driving on greens or natural areas. Also our rope cutter is back. Obviously this is not acceptable. We have also seen an increase in walkers on the cart paths. Please limit that to when golfers are not present. I've been hit by a golf ball. It's no fun!

Tournament Results

On a positive note, the Memorial Day Beautification Tournament netted $3,300 to spend on sprucing up our three golf courses. With help from the golf and beautification committees, things went smoothly for the 124 players. Many door prizes were given out and credit awarded to seven teams. The top teams were: Jack and Julia McDivitt/Jim and Brenda Lawson (first). Tying for second were the team of Larry and Brenda McJunkin/Steve and Sarah Havens and the team of Jim and Linda Arbuckle/Bob and Ginny Herrick.

Our Senior Club Championship at Tanasi had three age-division gross winners for the men and two for the women. For age 50-59 men, Phil Hoy shot 74-73 and Jim Barber won net (129). For age 60-69 men, Jim Dudley shot 77-76 and Jim Frazee (130) was low net. For 70+ men, Jim Brown shot 72-63 and Augie Ingoglia (127) won net in a scorecard playoff over Steve Popovich (127). The women's green tee gross winner was Laura Imboden (93-88) and Brenda McJunkin (149) won low net. In the yellow tee division, Ruth Reynolds won (84-89) and Linda Baren (134) won low net.

The results of the poll taken by the men and tallied by Jeff Harrington was overwhelmingly in favor (54 of 62) of changing age groups to standard amateur senior age groups 55-64, 65-74 Super Senior/ and 75+ Masters. If we have enough 80+ year old players next year, we will have a separate division for them also.

Villager Jim Brown recently won the Ira Templeton Chattanooga Open Senior Division with a 72-66. This was a state-wide event with both pros and amateurs over 50 years old.

Fourteen Villagers participated in the Knox Area Women's Golf Association annual match play championship at Gettysvuc June 10-12. Seven brought home the hardware. Rosemary Overton won Flight One and Norma Burt was Flight One consolation winner. In Flight Two, Anne Parkhill was the consolation winner and Laura Imboden the runner-up. In Flight Four, Nancy Hammer was the winner with Nancy McDaniel runner-up. Evelyn Brooks was the Flight Four consolation winner. Congratulations, ladies!

Mark your calendars for a change in the dates for the Tellico Club Championship this year. The women will have a separate gross division in the LGA Championship Oct. 13-14. The Men's Golf Association will also have a separate gross division in their championship Aug. 28-29.
