So I Sliced It in the Water...Now What?

By Jim West, Golf Director

It happens to every golfer...we hit an errant shot that ends up splashing into the water. After we recover from the loss of a treasured golf ball, we need to take appropriate relief from the hazard as provided for in the USGA Rules of Golf (Rule 26).

The first thing we need to determine is what type of water hazard did we find? Are there yellow stakes or red? Yellow stakes signify that it is a regular water hazard; red stakes mean we found a lateral water hazard.

A regular water hazard provides three options:

- Play the ball from the water hazard (without penalty).
- Proceed under the stroke and distance provision of Rule 27-1 by playing a ball as nearly as possible at the spot from which the original ball was last played.
- With one stroke penalty, drop a ball behind the water hazard, keeping the point at which the original ball last crossed the margin of the water hazard directly between the hole and the spot on which the ball is dropped, with no limit to how far behind the water hazard the ball may be dropped.

In addition to the options above, a lateral water hazard provides two additional options (for a total of 5 options):

- As additional options available only if the ball last crossed the margin of a lateral water hazard, with one stroke penalty drop a ball outside the water hazard within two club-lengths of and not nearer the hole than the point where the original ball last crossed the margin of the water hazard.

Or

- A point on the opposite margin of the water hazard equidistant from the hole.

For help avoiding water hazards, please see one of your Tellico Village PGA Professionals!

Hike Clingmans Dome to Silers Bald Aug. 8

- AT CLINGMANS DOME TO SILERS BALD
- Distance: 10.2 miles

We will hike the Appalachian Trail from Clingmans Dome to Silers Bald, returning along the same route. The trail follows the main spine of the Smokies and offers great views of both the Tennessee Valley and of Fontana Lake and the ridges in North Carolina. The lowest point on the hike is at an altitude of 5,400 feet., making for a cool summer hike. Pack a light jacket as the temperature will be at least 20 degrees cooler than in the Village. The climb back to Clingmans Dome at the end of the hike is quite steep and rocky, so the hike is rated as difficult. At the end of the hike, we will climb the observation tower at Clingmans Dome and take a well deserved rest as we survey the 360-degree view from the highest point in Tennessee.

Hiking boots and hiking sticks are recommended. Driving directions will be provided the morning of the hike. Bring water and a trail lunch. Carpooling is recommended, passengers are asked to contribute $6 to the driver to help cover gas, etc. For more information, go to www.TVHikers.com.
